

Planning Guide

School of Applied Science and Management

First Nations Governance and Public Administration

Instructions for Use

This planning guide is to assist you in selecting courses each term. Read carefully, as some courses are only offered in one term/year, and some are offered in multiple terms/years.

The recommended sequencing plan and note section in this guide will be beneficial in helping you select courses.

Refer to your program page on the main website under programs/courses for a more thorough description of each course.

A glossary (description) of common words and phrases used in this guide, can be found on the last page.

Graduation Requirements and Yukon First Nations Core Competency

To receive a Yukon University First Nations Governance and Public Administration certificate, a student must:

- pass all the required courses (30 credits)
- complete 50% (45 credits) of the coursework through Yukon University (residency requirement)
- achieve a minimum 2.0 cumulative GPA upon graduation (C average)
- successfully fulfill the Yukon First Nations core competency requirement

Notes

- *Students who have already taken both FNGA 103 and 208 will not be required to take the new FNGA 202 course or an LL elective. However, if they have only taken one of these courses, they are required to take the new FNGA 202 course but not the LL elective. Students who have not taken FNGA 103 or FNGA 208 will be required to take FNGA 202 and a LL elective.
- Courses in the spring semester will be offered on rotation every year.
- If you do not have the required prerequisites or are met with a prerequisite error code during online registration, please email a program advisor and/or the program support officer with a screen shot of the error code.

Recommended Sequencing Plan

Shown below is a sample sequence of courses for your degree. If you follow this plan, you should be able to graduate in three years, provided you complete five courses per academic year (up to three semesters per year). The sequence below is one example of how you could complete your core and elective requirements; you may find that a different sequence works as well, though it's important to note that some courses are offered only in Fall or Winter while others are available in both or more (see the "Usual Term" column in the program plan on the previous page). You may complete the courses over six semesters, and you may take them in any order you like provided you have met any prerequisites.

PREPARATORY COURSES

To be eligible for admission to the First Nations Governance and Public Administration Certificate program, students must hold:

- English 12 with a minimum of 75% and Math 10 (Foundations and Pre-calculus, or Workplace Mathematics 10); OR
- Mature Student Status with acceptable scores on university assessments; OR
- Five years of manager-level work experience with four to five pieces of sample writing for eligibility assessment.

Student Responsibility

Students are responsible for the completeness and accuracy of course selection and registration and for determining the requirements of your program. Always read course descriptions before you register to determine if you have the necessary prerequisites and pay attention to notes on mutually exclusive and cross-listed courses (pairs of courses in which credit will be awarded for only one).

Program Advising

For information about the program or to discuss program requirements, pathways and destinations, including transfer matters, please contact Evan Harris, Annie-Claude Letendre or Stephen Biggin-Pound. You can book an appointment the following ways:
