COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will introduce the student to the most widely used accounting principles and practices using a problem solving focus. Students will be introduced to all stages of the accounting cycle, including analyzing and recording transactions, adjusting, preparing financial statements, and closing accounts. Additional topic areas include merchandising, inventory costing, internal control and cash, and receivables.

PREREQUISITES

None.

RELATED COURSE REQUIREMENTS

It is strongly advised that students not take MATH050 and ACCT101 concurrently. This is an online course with a predominantly self-study component. Students need to be prepared to manage their time and motivate themselves accordingly.

EQUIVALENCY OR TRANSFERABILITY

ACCT101 is a university transfer, 3 credit hour course, also recognized by CPA Canada as a component of their prerequisites

ACCT101 Bus Admin → ACCT120 & ACCT220 Office Admin

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. Analyze and record transactions, adjust accounts, and complete the accounting cycle for a sole proprietorship.
2. Prepare a balance sheet, income statement and statement of changes in equity.
3. Demonstrate a high level of accuracy and attention to detail when recording and preparing accounting information.
4. Account for common merchandising activities, inventory costing, cash control, and receivables.
5. Recognize the importance of ethical principles in the accounting discipline.
6. Work collaboratively to solve accounting problems.

COURSE FORMAT

Course content will be presented through a blended approach of face-to-face interaction using “Zoom”, and online self-study. Students will be required to watch recorded lectures, participate in live tutorials, and complete a mixture of digital and paper-based assignments.

Live tutorials will be based on the assumption that students have watched the recorded lecture and prepared necessary questions for their understanding. Live tutorials will be devoted to answering student questions and hands-on application of course theory through guided problem solving.

All required readings, instructional videos, and exercises are listed in the course syllabus. When studying, students are responsible for correcting their own work. Chapter solutions will be posted to the course website. When completing readings, students can focus their energies by only covering those chapter sections that relate to the learning objectives specified in the course syllabus.

If you require additional assistance, the instructor is available to all students by email and appointment request. Additionally, there are resources available at the Ayamdigut campus. Be proactive with your learning; ask questions and get help when you need it.

ASSESSMENTS

There will be chapter quizzes, four “mini-tests”, a mid-term and final exam, all of which must be completed within the allotted time frame. The mid term will be 2 hours in length, the final 3 hours. The final exam, which is cumulative, will have a focus on material covered after the midterm exam; however, all course material is testable.

If you must miss a test or exam (for an acceptable reason), it is your responsibility to inform the instructor prior to the scheduled test date and arrange with the instructor an alternative date to write the test within one week of the original test date. There may be exceptions to these guidelines at the instructor's discretion.

Examples of acceptable (valid) reasons for missing a scheduled evaluation include personal illness (supported by a doctor's note) or absence required by your employer (supported by a letter from your employer). This course is on a condensed semester schedule and assignments will be returned quickly, therefore missed assignments and tests must be "cleared up" quickly or the lost time will accumulate and cause issues for the remainder of the course.
