COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed to introduce students to public policy analysis in a First Nation government setting. It will examine the various tools and stages of policy analysis and development that may be conducted in different governance contexts whether rational, advisory, or participative. The course will also review critical thinking skills associated with policy analysis work. The course will examine the value policy analysis provides to First Nation government’s decision making and governance in general.

PREREQUISITES

Admission to the First Nations Governance and Public Administration Program, or permission from a program advisor.

RELATED COURSE REQUIREMENTS

If joining the course via distance, students are required to have access to a desktop computer, laptop or tablet that can run and operate the online Moodle platform and Fuze application. It is recommended that students have access to wired high-speed internet to efficiently use both Moodle and Fuze. Distance students will also require access to a web cam, as well as a headset or speakers and microphone.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Students should be able to understand public policy concepts. Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Describe public policy and its various forms
- Explain policy analysis, and understand the various approaches to policy making in a First Nation government setting
- Identify the basic tools and techniques of policy analysis and critical thinking
- Identify the various stages of policy development and the actors involved in a First Nation Community
- Recognize the benefits that policy analysis can bring to a First Nation government’s decision making process
- Refine policy related presentation and writing skills

COURSE FORMAT

This is a classroom based course that uses web conference technology to engage with distance students. The primary delivery methods will be:

- Lectures: instructor-led presentation of material
- Seminars and Activities: group discussion and activities on specific topics
- Student readings: assigned readings from handouts, the course text
- Assignments: written assignments focused on reviewing ideas and developing practical skills
- Final Exam: open book short essay
ASSESSMENTS

Attendance & Participation

All students will be expected to attend and actively participate in class, as assigned by the instructor. The material covered in the classroom is cumulative in nature, and missing classes may put students at a disadvantage.

Written Assignment Requirements

Written assignments for this course must be word-processed, double-spaced, with 1-inch margins, in Times New Roman 12-point font. Written assignments must follow the conventions of academic writing, including the use of APA referencing style. Unauthorized late assignment will be penalized by 5% per day up to a maximum of one week. Late assignments must first be authorized by the Instructor in advance of the assignment due date.

ACADEMIC AND STUDENT CONDUCT

Information on academic standing and student rights and responsibilities can be found in the current Academic Regulations that are posted on the Student Services/
Admissions & Registration web page.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence. Plagiarism occurs when students present the words of someone else as their own. Plagiarism can be the deliberate use of a whole piece of another person’s writing, but more frequently it occurs when students fail to acknowledge and document sources from which they have taken material. Whenever the words, research or ideas of others are directly quoted or paraphrased, they must be documented according to an accepted manuscript style (e.g., APA, CSE, MLA, etc.). Resubmitting a paper which has previously received credit is also considered plagiarism. Students who plagiarize material for assignments will receive a mark of zero (F) on the assignment and may fail the course. Plagiarism may also result in dismissal from a program of study or the College.

YUKON FIRST NATIONS CORE COMPETENCY

Yukon College recognizes that a greater understanding and awareness of Yukon First Nations history, culture and journey towards self-determination will help to build positive relationships among all Yukon citizens. As a result, to graduate from ANY Yukon College program, you will be required to achieve core competency in knowledge of Yukon First Nations. For details, please see www.yukoncollege.yk.ca/yfnccr.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION

Reasonable accommodations are available for students requiring an academic accommodation to fully participate in this class. These accommodations are available for students with a documented disability, chronic condition or any other grounds specified in section 8.0 of the Yukon College Academic Regulations (available on the Yukon College website). It is the student’s responsibility to seek these accommodations. If a student requires an academic accommodation, he/she should contact the Learning Assistance Centre (LAC) at (867) 668-8785 or lassist@yukoncollege.yk.ca.
