COURSE CALENDAR DESCRIPTION

Continues the survey of all the major content areas of psychology begun in PSYC 100. The course covers development, personality, stress and health, psychopathology, therapy, and social psychology.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Introductory Psychology 101 is the second half of a survey course of all of the major content areas of Psychology. Both Introductory Psychology 100 and 101 cover basic research methodology and current research in the various subject areas, and the basic knowledge and major theories of the field. Introductory Psychology 100 provided an overview of the following areas of psychology: history of psychology, research methods; biological basis of behaviour, sensation and perceptual processes; variations in consciousness, learning, human memory, and language and thought. This course, Introductory Psychology 101, continues the survey of the field with explorations of psychological assessment, motivation and emotions, human development, personality theory, stress and health, psychopathology, therapy, and social psychology.

This course is accepted for transfer by other institutions on a case-by-case basis. For more information about transferability please contact the Liberal Arts Office.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to

- demonstrate an understanding of basic psychological terminology and explain important features of major psychological concepts and theories
- develop an understanding of basic theories and research methods in psychology
- critically analyze information about human behavior and distinguish between conclusions supported by scientific evidence and conclusions based on nonscientific ways of knowing
- demonstrate applied psychology research skills

COURSE FORMAT:

The course will consist of lectures, class discussions, debates, demonstrations, and supplementary audio-visual materials.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Students are expected to attend regularly, complete all assignments, and to participate actively in class discussions. Since a large portion of the examinable material will be based on classroom information, attendance is critical. If you miss a class, please arrange with another student to take notes and to inform you of in-class experiences. Students are responsible for obtaining handouts and completing assignments for any classes missed. Class discussion is an important element in this course. Students will be responsible for the readings assigned and should be prepared to discuss these readings and share their insights in class.

All written assignment must be handed in by 1:00 pm on the due date. Should you choose to do the optional paper, your paper will be due no later than March 22nd.

ASSESSMENTS

Attendance/Participation 15%

Regular attendance and in class participation, including the use of i>clickers is expected. Missed classes and non-participation will result in a reduction of the mark.

Midterm Exam Due: February 27th 30%
40% no paper

The mid-term is scheduled for February 27th and will be a multiple choice exam.

Academic Paper Option Due: March 22nd 20%

You are encouraged to choose to complete a paper if you plan to continue in the social sciences and feel comfortable with your writing ability. Should you choose not to do a paper, your final grade will be the combination of the participation, midterm exam, and final exam marks. Should you decide to do the paper, your mark cannot be less than the combination of the participation, midterm exam, and final exam marks. If the mark on the paper reduces your overall grade point average, it will be excluded. If the mark on the paper increased your overall grade point average, it will be included.

You should choose a topic that is relevant to the course and if uncertain, approved beforehand by the instructor. You are expected to follow the conventions of grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Arguments and content should be logical and coherent, supported by evidence from the literature or primary sources, and should always reference the author of such works. Written assignments should be word-processed and double-spaced. You are expected to follow APA writing standards. Your paper will be due no later than March 22nd.

Final Exam Due: Exam Week 35%
45% no paper

The final exam will be comprehensive and take place during the regularly scheduled exam period (April 10 - 21). It will be 3 hours in duration and will contain multiple choice, short answer, and essay questions. Students must achieve a passing grade of 50% on the final examination in order to pass the course. A failed final exam will result in a failed course.

Alternate arrangements will not be made for students unable to write the final examination at the scheduled time/date unless exceptional circumstances prevail and the instructor has given approval in advance.

All evaluative components for this course are compulsory, and must be completed in order to pass the course.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence. Plagiarism occurs when students present the words of someone else as their own. Plagiarism can be the deliberate use of a whole piece of another person's writing, but more frequently it occurs when students fail to acknowledge and document sources from which they have taken material. Whenever the words, research or ideas of others are directly quoted or paraphrased, they must be documented according to an accepted manuscript style (e.g., APA, CSE, MLA, etc.). Resubmitting a paper which has previously received credit is also considered plagiarism. Students who plagiarize material for assignments will receive a mark of zero (F) on the assignment and may fail the course. Plagiarism may also result in dismissal from a program of study or the College.

YUKON FIRST NATIONS CORE COMPETENCY

Yukon College recognizes that a greater understanding and awareness of Yukon First Nations history, culture and journey towards self-determination will help to build positive relationships among all Yukon citizens. As a result, to graduate from ANY Yukon College program, you will be required to achieve core competency in knowledge of Yukon First Nations. For details, please see www.yukoncollege.yk.ca/yfnccr.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION

Reasonable accommodations are available for students requiring an academic accommodation to fully participate in this class. These accommodations are available for students with a documented disability, chronic condition or any other grounds specified in section 8.0 of the Yukon College Academic Regulations (available on the Yukon College website). It is the student's responsibility to seek these accommodations. If a student requires an academic accommodation, he/she should contact the Learning Assistance Centre (LAC) at (867) 668-8785 or lassist@yukoncollege.yk.ca.
